

Revising Current Legislations to Better Protect Wildlife and Manage Utilization

Author: TAO Siming

Abstract:

Being aware of the concept that wildlife is an integral part of a community of life is the basis to realize universal protection while managing selective utilization of wildlife. To protect wildlife, ecosystem should be conserved first. Then hunting and utilization of wildlife should be well-managed. Current legislations have certain limitation and confusion in terms of protection. Three suggestions are proposed to help with revising current legislations for better wildlife protection.

Key words: Wildlife, better protection, utilization management, adaptation ability
